NEWS FROM GREENWOOD

Town Carrienationized. Hatchet Woman on the Coast.

Girl Loses Her Hair While Asleep. A Profound Mystery.

GREENWOOD, March 4.—As Greenwood has been neglected lately I will endeavor to give you a few items which may interest your readers. Our small, but sometimes lively, burg experienced a variety of excitements last week.

Last Thursday Lena Scott, daughter of Mrs. Julia Scott, after returning from the beach, laid down to rest and was soon sound asleep. Imagine her surprise when she awoke to find half her hair cut off, and nothing but the scissors to tell the tale. She was alone in the house and whether she got up in her sleep or someone bent on mischief relieved her of her hair remains a mystery.

John Lynd, our constable, went to Ukiah Saturday morning. He was accompanied by James Walsh, of Miller, and a man supposed to be insane. The man in question threatened the life of Mr. Walsh and several other people about his place, and as he was recently discharged from the asylum there seems to be no doubt of his insanity.

The Quaker Doctors were with us a week. They played to a large and appreciative audience every night, but Saturday night capped the climax. We did not know that we were entertaining a Carrie Nation in our midst (but where could she find a better field to work in?). Unlike the original, she began to smash the medicine bottles belonging to the show company, but not content with that she sallied forth and continued her work of destruction in all the principal joints. She was not satisfied with emptying bottles and glasses, but tried to "carrienationize" the proprietors as well—at least that's what Nels seemed to think—so she was taken in charge by the town officers, William and James, who put her in a place of safety for the night. Being unknown to anyone here she was given the protection of a "stout" guardian and started up the coast next morning. I presume we will hear of her again unless the "jointers" close up when they learn of her coming.

John Cameron, who has been working in the lumber mill at Carters for the past year returned on the steamer Whitesboro last Tuesday. He says there is no place like old Mendocino after all.

What might have been a serious accident happened to Mrs. Jack Nelson and Teresa Dougherty last Tuesday as they were coming down from Caspar. When they were about four miles from town at what is known as the Well's place, a dog ran out and frightened their horse, which kicked and broke the buggy, and tore things up generally. But finally the buggy got caught in a picket fence and the occupants jumped out uninjured.

Geo. Scott was an outgoing passenger on the steamer Whitesboro today. He goes below to have his eyes treated. JACK.

Charles L. Hopkins, the deputy assessor of Potter and Redwood valleys, was in town Saturday on business, and added his name to our already increased subscription list.

E. B. Hiatt was over from Boonville the first of the week getting ready to assess Anderson township.

Victory For Union High School District

Attorney General Tirey L. Ford has refused to allow the Union Lumber Co. "leave to sue" in the name of the people in the alleged action against the Ft. Bragg union high school district. Last year the people in a number of districts contiguous to Ft. Bragg circulated a petition addressed to Supt. Barbee, asking him to call an election for the purpose of establishing a union high school at Ft. Bragg. Upon receiving the petition, Supt. Barbee immediately called an election which was carried in favor of the high school.

W. P. Plummer for the lumber company thru its attorneys McGarvey and Bledsoe claimed that the district was improperly organized and was unlawfully exersing the franchise of a public high school district without authority of law. General Ford handed down a decision that the case was not one wherein the State should institute a judicial inquiry and therefore refused to grant the company "leave to sue." The opinion was written by Deputy Attorney General, Hon. G. A. Sturtevant, and is a very able and exhaustive one and quotes decision on decision to uphold his view. The school district won out on every point taken. The school district will now go on and preparations will soon be made to open the high school in the vacant rooms of the public school building at Ft. Bragg.

Cooper bot the brick store building occupied by Jas. Stitt for $3,600 and the Post Office building for $6,000. J. H. Barker bot the brick building already occupied by him as a hardware store, for $4,400. A. F. Redemyer bot the Newcomer saloon building for $5,500, and George Jamison paid $2,100 for the old furniture building now occupied by Julius Roller, and $3,200 for the stores occupied by Ames as a shoe store and by Brown as a candy store. The total amount of the sales was $24,800. Other property of the estate remains to be disposed of. The prices obtained were fair.

Shooting Scrape at Westport.

Tuesday morning District Attorney Poage, accompanied by Court Reporter Wm. Held, started to Westport to take part in the preliminary examination of John Barg, charged with assault to commit murder. The complaining witness was G. A. Devilbliss, with whom the defendant had been having trouble for some time, with reference to dogs and sheep. The parties met and, as the report goes, took a couple of shots at each other, no one being hurt. We learn by telephone that the case was dismissed.

Suit Against Railroad Co.

George McCowen and Hale McCowen have instituted suit against J. W. Pew, et al., representing the railroad company, to have a certain bond, executed by them upon some timber land set aside. The circumstances are these: The land in question is situated between Willits and Sherwood valley and embraces 1160 acres. It has been bonded several times, the last time being Oct. 16, 1899. This bond expired Oct. 16, 1900 but a short time before its expiration the McCowen brothers were notified that the bondees would take the land. Previous to this, however, Mr. Geo. McCowen, concluding that the company would not take the land, allowed Messrs Moore and Banks to cut timber off about ten acres of the land. The bond price of the land is $15 an acre, but the bondees now demand $400 an acre or $4,000 for the timber cut. The McCowen brothers resist this demand and ask the Court to set aside the Bond.

It Saved His Leg.

P. A. Danforth, of LaGrange, Ga., suffered intensely for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg, but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in ten days. For Ulcers, Wounds, Burns, Boils, Pain or Piles. It's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by J. R. Mathews City Pharmacy.

Discussing Alfalfa.

H. M. Cottrell, of the Kansas Experiment Station, has been trying the cultivation of alfalfa by running disc harrows over the fields after each cutting during the Spring and Summer. He finds the results very satisfactory, the alfalfa making a quicker and stronger growth, and the grasses which are prone to grow in the spaces between the plants are eliminated. We have no doubt that Mr. Cottrell's conclusions are correct as applied to Kansas, and other Eastern states, where summer rains prevail, but in California, at least upon certain kinds of land, the rule would not hold good to the same extent. We are satisfied, however, that in California one or two good discings would be of great advantage. The first cultivation of this kind should be given just after the first cutting, and if there is still plenty of moisture in the top soil, it might be turned over after the second cutting, but, in our opinion that should be the limit.

A Real Pioneer.

Mendocino county is the home of quite a number of pioneers, but perhaps none of them, and in fact but few surviving in the State, came here earlier than Mr. Asa W. Finley of Ukiah. He came to California with his family in 1846, crossing the plains. He travelled for a time in company with the ill fated Donner party but, with others of the train, pushed on and got over the mountains before the snows obstructed travel. He was a member of Fremont's mountaineers in the Mexican war. He is still able to get around far better than many younger men.

Maurice Hirsch returned Wednesday from a trip to San Francisco.

Rev. D. M. Gillies was in San Francisco this week, returning Wednesday.

Twenty additional men came up on the noon train Tuesday to work on the railroad extension.

A new organization of cattle men embracing the entire territory west of the Missouri river, has been formed. It is called the American Cattle Growers Association, and held its first annual convention in Denver this week.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Now that the Barbers' Bill has become a law, all persons desiring to shave themselves or cut their neighbor's hair must get a commissioner's certificate at a cost of $5.00 or be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor. It is now in order to license chamber maids in livery stables and horse clippers.

According to Senate Bill No. 650, Mendocino county is put in the 14th class, where she will remain at least until the next session of the Legislature. Counties having a population between 20,000 and 21,000 are in the 14th class. Mendocino county has a population of 20,465 and is therefore in this class, as was predicted by the DISPATCH some two months ago.

Governor Gage vetoed one of Senator Belshaw's bills last week for the most trivial of reasons. When the veto was announced in the Senate, Belshaw arose and said that the Governor looked not into the merits of the bill, but simply at the name of the author. The concensus of opinion was that the Senator was not very far from the truth.

This office is under obligations to Congressman Woods, of the Second District, for a copy of Farmer's Bulletin No. 29, issued from the Government printing office in 1895, the same being a 23 page pamphlet on "Souring of Milk." The bulletin should be of great value to dairymen and housewives.

In the discussion in the State Senate on the bill to establish a State reform school for girls at San Jacinto, it transpired that there are only 38 girls at Whittier, and that 16 women are employed to wait on them. The bill passed the Senate, however, carrying an appropriation of $15,000.

Senator Towne, of Minnesota, closed his brief term in the United States Senate by a very brilliant speech on the Phillipine question. At its conclusion many Senators gathered around him to congratulate him. Senator Chauncey Depew, of New York, said: "I congratulate you, Mr. Towne. Your delivery was fine, your diction elegant, and your peroration superb, but your argument was damnable." "I am delighted to know," instantly replied the Senator from Minnesota, "that you approve of all the features of it you could comprehend."

Governor Gage has signed the Lunch Hour Law after much hedging. The Governor is now a candidate for renomination and reelection and thot it would be good politics to throw some kind of sop to the toilers. It will be remembered that two years ago he vetoed a similar bill and even refused San Francisco labor committees a hearing, and thot it an insult for laborers to even ask an audience with him. He has changed his tune now temporarily with the hope that he may be able to silence some of the opposition to him in labor circles. This is all the laborers ever got from him and it will be the last they will ever get should he be reelected.

Despite the Governor's previous horror for labor measures and his change of heart now in order to silence opposition, The DISPATCH is exceedingly glad that the bill has now become a law and hopes that the mill companies will immediately abide by it. They will lose nothing by it, in fact they will gain by it, for if they show an inclination to treat employes humanely, these men in turn will be more considerate of the company's interests.

HILL ON DEMOCRACY.

The legislature of Alabama has received a letter from Ex-Senator David B. Hill of New York, tendering his thanks for its request for an address from him and expressing regret at being unable to comply. In part he wrote:

"The reference to political matters contained in the resolution leads me to say that the Democratic party, as the great conservative force of the country, is more than ever essential to the safety and well-being of the republic. The nation is confronted at home with the malign influence of corruption and plutocracy, and it is threatened abroad by the machinations of the enemies of constitutional government and popular liberty. It becomes our party as patriots and Democrats to strengthen our party organization, to unite all foes enemies of opposition or radicalism, to organise for future contests upon right lines, so as to make national victories again possible, to avoid recrimination and to subordinate all selfish and personal considerations in the exhibition of a wide-spread national party patriotism.

"We should stand as a solid phalanx in favor of astrict construction of the Federal Constitution, for the preservation of the reserved rights of the states, for the maintenance of the constitutional currency of our fathers, for a system of public taxation imposed for public purposes only, for economy in all public expenditures and for the supremacy of the constitution, with all its guarantees, over every portion of our national jurisdiction and we should resist by every honorable means in our power the Republican effort to fasten upon our country the evils of militarism, the wrongs involved in the diversion of public moneys in the shape of congressional snbsidies, the tendency toward centralization of power aud the substitution of imperialistic ideas for the plain and simple theories of democratic government. Upon all these issues the Democratic party is right and sooner or later the right will prevail."

AN IMPERIAL PAGEANT.

The military pageant at McKinley's inauguration last Monday embraced more soldiers than were in our entire army at the time of his first inauguration four years ago. As straws show which way the wind blows, this, together with other little things which are passed by without serious comment, shows that a rapid change is taking place in our manner of doing things. In the earlier days of our Republic, when our people, both high and low, believed in liberty and republican simplicity, it was considered in good taste for a newly elected President to ride to the Capitol on horseback, tie his horse to the fence, walk in and take the oath of office. It is different now. The millionaire, trust-made lords of the land, the tariff tyrants who are heaping up one fortune upon another at the expense of the toiling masses, find it expedient to prepare great spectacular scenes for the entertainment of the proletariat and the middle classes. Even so they did in Rome under the Empire, and even so they do now in all the great monarchies of Europe. And with a certain element of the unthinking masses these exhibitions of royal splendor are taken as evidences of great national prosperity. As in duty bound, we call attention to these things, not with any immediate hope of stemming the rising tide, but simply as a note of warning. Imperialism is in the saddle in the United States, as surely and completely as in any part of the world.

HON. WM. M. EVARTS.

The death of Hon. William M. Evarts, which occurred in New York last week, removes a man who, in his day of prime, was in many respects one of the greatest ever produced in the United States. Apart from his official career, which was marked by ability of a high order, as a forensic orator he was without a superior. His great speech in defence of President Andrew Johnson, in the impeachment trial of 1868, was one of the grandest forensic efforts which all history affords. Exhibiting a facility of expression and a profound knowledge of constitutional law, no where excelled. In the midst of a tension of interest never before witnessed in the United States Senate, he went on, hour after hour, in an argument which was simply invincible and irresistible.

Who regulates the elements?
Who takes the place of Providence?

Raised wheat and corn to such a pitch
It made the farmers all get rich?

And then got out and scratched around
Till Cripple Creek and Nome were found?

Who sunk Cervera's fleet one day?
McKinley.
Who fought against the war, then came
At a late hour into the game
And took the glory for the same?

Who is the source of every good?
McKinley.
Who wants that fully understood?
McKinley.
If any benefit befall
Somewhere npon this mundane ball
Who is the creature, sleek and small,
That has the monumental gall
To claim the credit for it all?

SERVED MINORITY RIGHT.

It is plain that the Democratic minority in the last Congress was either without competent leadership or its leaders were untrue to the principles so often reiterated in party conventions. It appears indubitable, that in the action taken by Congress with relation to Cuba and the Philippines, by which the whole thing was turned over to the President, and by which he was authorized to violate the most sacred pledges made by the national legislature, that the minority surrendered their opportunity to contend for the most time-honored principles, under a compact by which the majority agreed to pass the River and Harbor bill. The minority stood by the compact and McKinley triumphed. But when it came to paying the price, McKinley balked. He did not want to sign the River and Harbor bill and so he set to work by trickery to prevent its final passage in the Senate. Carter, of Montana, was selected to talk the bill to death on the last day of the session. He did it. For sixteen hours he held the floor, excoriating the minority, spitting upon them, exposing their cowardly compromise and finally robbing them of the promised reward of their perfidy. While we regret the defeat of the River and Harbor bill, we are compelled to think that the minority deserved to lose the coveted prize under the circumstances. Not until Democrats return to the solid principles upon which the party is founded, and quit compromising, will they succeed.

Senator J. H. Seawell returned from San Francisco yesterday, where he had been on legal business in reference to the Ellege will case which came up in the Supreme Court in banc this week. Upon the stipulations of the parties, the judgment of the lower court and the motion denying the proponents a new trial was reversed. The case was remanded to the lower court and it was ordered that the remittur issue forthwith. This was done in pursuance of the compromise heretofore published in this paper. The will will be admitted to probate and the estate distributed thereunder.

ASIATIC PROOFS OF DELUGE.

In this day of scientific investigation along lines bearing upon the statements of Holy Writ, anything which will afford additional light is of important interest. As bearing upon the Bible account of the flood, some recent letters from Dr. George Frederick Wright, who is an authority on the glacial period. will be of interest. In one of his recent letters, speaking especially with reference to the evidences of a general flood, Dr. Wright says:

"Catastrophes comparable to the flood are not strange things in geology. The glacial period was connected with a series of catastrophes. I have traveled 12,000 miles in Asia to find evidences of the glacial period and have found none. There was no general glaciation of Eastern and Central Asia, as there was of America and Europe.

"But I have found indisputable evidence of an extensive submergence of the land extending to the base of Mount Ararat, and that this submergence took place subsequent to the appearance of man on the earth. The Russian geologists have recently found remains of men deep down in the deposits connected with this period of submergence.

"The one point of certainty is that since man's appearance there has been a period of instability in the earth's crust in Northern and Central Asia, which shows that the Biblical account of the flood is an entirely credible story."

GAGE'S PARAMOUNT COMMISSION

Governor Gage has sent on to Washington a "Paramount Commission"—whatever that may mean—consisting of W. F. Herrin of the Southern Pacific Company, John P. Young, managing editor of the Chronicle, T. T. Williams, managing editor of the Examiner, and Henry T. Scott, of the Union Iron Works, to try to do something to counteract or prevent what will be the legitimate result of his (Gage's) own mistakes with reference to the presence of bubonic plague in San Francisco. Should the Government Commission of experts now at work in San Francisco report that plague exists or has existed in that city, it is, with reason, feared that the U. S. transport service will be transferred to Puget Sound to the great loss of San Francisco. It will be observed that the San Francisco papers are surprisingly silent on this subject, and were it not for the outspoken independence of the Sacramento Bee, the people would be in utter ignorance of what is going on in connection with that subject. The acts and conduct of Governor Gage on this subject seem to have been prompted by a blind infatuation unsupported by reason or common sense, and the end may possibly be far more disastrous to the commercial interests of the State than would have been an open avowal of the true facts. Gage begins to see the damage he has wrought and is now seeking a compromise.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she was wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by J. R. Mathews, City Pharmacy.

AGRICULTURAL INFORMATION WANTED.

We have heard intelligent farmers complain that the Agricultural Department of the State University does not furnish the agriculturists of the State the information which they have a right to expect. They say that in the founding of that institution the improvement of agricultural processes thru information to be furnished thereby was to be one of the chief features. The farmers complain that if the desired information is available at all, they are not informed as to how they can procure it. A prominent farmer told us this week that he desired to fertilize a portion of his land, but does not know just what kind of fertilizer he needs nor how to apply it to get the best results. We have no doubt that a letter addressed to Prof. Hilgard, who is at the head of that department of the State University, will bring the desired information in the form of bulletins, but these bulletins do not seem to reach the average farmer, or if they do he does not preserve them for future use.

Still the Hanna Statesmen are trying to push on the ship subsidy bill. Who will profit by it if it becomes a law? Men already rich. Only rich men have ship yards. Only men already rich expect to build ships and sail them and get the subsidy. From whom will the taxes to support the subsidy be drawn? From the whole people. Are not the men of great riches rich enough already? Why should government tax the country to make them richer?—Working Democracy.

The Disease More Prevalent than Ever and Quite as Fatal. The Best Treatment.

The grip has surprised the doctors and health authorities this season by its rapid spread and by some novel symptoms. While it spares nobody it is proving especially dangerous to middle-aged and elderly persons. In many cases either as the al onset of pneumonia, or a complete breakdown of health and strength, is apt to follow an attack of grip.

The wise course for all is prevention. By wearing a BENSON'S POROUS PLASTER on the chest and back you protect the lungs from cold and chill and (with ordinary care) you are safe from grip.

For those who are already suffering from grip, or from the usual winter coughs and colds, BENSONS PLASTERS are a sure and speedy relief and cure. Highly medicinal and scientific.

PREVENTS LIVE BURIAL.

Life Saving Device to Avoid Premature Interment.

INVENTION OF RUSSIAN COUNT.

Emile Camis Has Come to America to Demonstrate the Efficacy of the Method—Was Interred Once and Describes Sensations as He Heard Clods Fall on His Coffin Lid.

Emile Camis, once committed to the earth and willing to be again in order to show the efficacy of a device to save life in case of premature burial, has arrived in New York. As a part of his luggage M. Camis brought with him the apparatus which he has himself tested in such a novel way. He intends, according to the New York Herald, to deliver lectures in this country on the dangers of premature burial and to advocate the use of a contrivance so simple and effective that the horrors attending a too hasty interment may be averted.

M. Camis is the associate of Count Michel de Karnice Karnicke, who first evolved the idea of the apparatus. The count is the chamberlain to the czar of Russia. The nobleman's attention was several years ago called to the necessity of having some device to succor those who have by accident been committed to the tomb before actual death. It was found when the grave of a Belgian girl was opened that the body had turned. The chamberlain was so impressed by an account which he read of the occurrence that he immediately gave his attention to devising some means for preventing such a tragedy. The result was the Karnicke system, which already has a large following in France.

In 10,000 French wills the testators ask that when they are buried the device be placed over their coffins, so that there may be a chance to save them in case life merely burns low instead of being extinguished. M. Camis has done much to assist the count in the perfecting of the invention. He has delivered addresses on the subject before academies of medicine, before associations of learned men and legislative committees.

There is already in this country a society which is devoted to furthering the use of the system. M. Camis will establish headquarters in New York, from which he will conduct a campaign in the interest of the Karnicke method.

"The device," said he, "is far from intricate. It will not revolutionize the present methods of burial. It consists, broadly speaking, of a tube 10 centimeters in diameter and a hermetically sealed box. As soon as the coffin is lowered into the grave the tube, which according to the English measurement is about 3½ inches in diameter, is fitted over an aperture in it. At the top of this tube is the hermetically sealed box. On the breast of the supposedly dead body is placed a ball, which is attached to a rod. The least movement of the chest or of the body, in fact, will be communicated to the signal box above ground. The ball is placed upon the chest because owing to the resistance of the bony skeleton that part of the body is not swelled by the gases of decomposition.

"Exceedingly simple is the mechanism. Motion communicated by the movement of the body releases a spring which causes a door in the box to fall open, thus admitting light and air to the coffin. It would be possible for a man to live for two days under such conditions. The same motion causes a bell to ring half an hour. It also sets off a rocket, which in the night serves to call the attention of the persons in charge of the cemetery.

"Should the one who is entombed cry aloud for help the contrivance greatly increases the volume of the voice. In addition to this the movement of the body causes a ball to be lifted above the head of the grave. There are thus revealed signals any one of which would serve at any hour of the day or night to call attention to the plight of the person in the coffin. After sunset there is always a lamp burning in front of the box. The light from it is reflected into the tube and thus to the interior of the coffin. During the day sufficient light is admitted to the coffin to enable one to read the writing on a slip of paper.

"This method is entirely practical," M. Camis continued. "The cost of the appliance is less than that of a floral wreath or a broken column. Any mechanic could put it in place. The price of the materials is comparatively small. The apparatus might cost $10 or $15 in this country. Still, the item of cost could be reduced to the minimum. The device could simply become a part of the outfit of the undertaker, who would charge a fee for putting it in place.

"At the end of the period when there is a possibility of any signs of life being manifested the tube may be withdrawn. The coffin is automatically sealed by the fall of a small door. The only absolute sign that death has taken place is the putrefaction of the body. The gases from the putrefaction are confined by this system, for the apparatus is hermetically sealed, as I have said. The gases, as has been demonstrated by actual experiment, have no effect upon the mechanism."

"What practical tests have been made of the utility of this devise?" was asked.

"I am sure that it works," replied M. Camis, with a smile, "for I was myself buried in order that I might speak from experience of its efficacy. It was at the exposition in Turin a year ago. In the presence of several hundred persons the experiment was conducted. I was placed in the coffin and lowered into the grave. The sensation was startling. I did not realize fully what it meant until I heard the cold, hard clods dropping on the coffin—one, two, three. It was very strange. It was hardly comfortable. Indeed it was some time before I recovered my equanimity. I was in the grave one hour and a quarter before I gave the signal that I wished to be disinterred. The apparatus worked to perfection. I heard the sound of spades and shovels in the earth above me. It was with a feeling of relief, I confess, that I saw the coffin lid raised.

"I am willing to repeat the experiment in this country, so great is my confidence in this invention. I delivered an address on the subject of premature burial before the French Academy of Medicine. Some of the members expressed doubt as to the practicability of the apparatus. Finally Dr. Charles Richet had himself buried in a coffin fitted with the device. He was then abundantly satisfied that the contrivance was of great practical value. The Karnicke system is in use in France, and I think that Americans, who are so quick to adopt new ideas, will soon adopt it."

Where the Inventors Live.

Patent office reports at Washington show that in proportion to population the District of Columbia is now in the lead with regard to inventiveness. Oddly enough Colorado comes next, while Connecticut holds third place. New York is seventh in the list. It is easy to explain the primacy of the District of Columbia, because many applicants for patents take up homes in the national capital in order to watch closely and constantly their interests in the patent office. But it is astonishing that Colorado should hold a higher place in the roll of inventors than any state in New England, so renowned for Yankee shrewdness in the finding out of new things.

It's Time Wasted

And strength wasted, to try to push back the rising tide with a broom. It's just as great a waste of time and a far more serious waste of strength to try to push back the rising tide of disease with the "nervines," "compounds" and "nerve foods" which simply drug the nerves into a drunken stupor. They make you feel good? So does whisky, while the feeling lasts, but the reaction is dangerous and deadly. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a temperance medicine. It contains no alcohol, opium, cocaine or other narcotic. It strengthens the body by purifying the blood and increasing the supply of that vital fluid. It heals diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition and thus removes the obstacles to a perfect nourishment of the whole body.

"Six years ago my stomach and heart troubled me so much I had to do something, as the doctors could not help me," writes Mrs. S. A. Knapp, of San Jose, California, Box 392. "I went to San Francisco and had treatment for catarrh of the stomach and was better for some time, then it came back. I then used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' These medicines cured my stomach. I do not have the pain and indigestion as I did. It is very hard for me to tell you what I suffered before I commenced taking your valuable medicine. I recommend it to all the sufferers whom I meet."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets strengthen and stimulate the liver.
